

March 7, 2014

RE: Statement regarding the European Parliament and Council Directive 2011/65/U (RoHS II)

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is in response to your request as to our compliance to the European Parliament and Council Directive 2011/65/U for the products we supply to you. This particular directive is for the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment. Automated Packaging Systems Inc. supplies you with thermal transfer ribbon; therefore this directive is not applicable to our product.

Based on inquiries to the manufacture of thermal transfer ribbon , we can state that none of the restricted materials is intentionally introduced to this product. In addition based on the manufactures supplier surveys, manufacturing practices, and laboratory testing of representative product, it is expected that incidental levels of the restricted materials would be well below the regulatory limits.

Sincerely:

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Paul Banfield'. The signature is written in a cursive style with a large initial 'P'.

Paul Banfield
Corporate Safety and Environmental Manager